Only a few places in the world have such a characteristic and wonderful nature as the west of Norway or the Fjords. Many of these fjords are deep and steep, with waterfalls and mountainsides that are thrown sharply into the sea. But in the Norway of the Fjords you will find at the same time, wide and smooth fjords, where fertile agricultural land and abundant fishing have created a visible being. Long distances and high mountains make the coastal culture. Here is very well preserved both the art of shipbuilding as the old commercial places.

ANTHEM OF THE SEAS

Launched in 2015, Anthem of the Seas takes everything that passengers love about Royal Caribbean and brings it to the next level. Anthem is a Quantum-class cruise ship that offers an impressive selection of dining and nightlife plus nonstop activities ideal for energetic families and couples. Spend the evening sipping robotically mixed cocktails from the Bionic Bar or relaxing in the low-key Two70 lounge. On the lower decks, you'll find the main dining rooms and entertainment venues, including the two-story Music Hall and 1,299-seat Royal Theater. Whether you enjoy Vegas-style illusions or the foot-stomping hits of legendary rockers, Queen, Anthem has an assortment of world-class stage shows, West End musicals, and live bands.

While many activities and venues are geared toward adults, Royal Caribbean is a family-friendly line at heart. Passengers traveling with children can take advantage of the teen club and Adventure Ocean activity center as well as the Royal Babies and Tots Nursery. During the day, the multistory SeaPlex is the main attraction for family fun whether its bumper cars, roller skating, or video games. If you enjoy high-adrenaline adventures, Anthem of the Seas doesn't disappoint with a FlowRider surfing machine and RipCord skydiving simulator.
